THE OPENING

DRESSMAKING DEPARTMENTS

Will take place this year on or about

September 20.

The season is conceded by all to be a little late, and our desire to be "UP TO DATE" in Dressmaking as well as merchandising prompts the postponement of our opening until the above time. This gives MADAME HODGES and MADAME PHELPS, who are now in the East, ample time to procure for you the very latest ideas.

On their return next week you can depend upon it, they will have an intimate knowledge of FASHION'S DEMANDS. As these trips are made exclusively for the benefit of our patrons, a cordial invi-tation is extended to all, our "out of town" customers as well, to call and have a "chat" with the Madames about those NEW FALL DRESSES.

A HALF THOUSAND INCREASE.

Attendance of Schools on the First Day of the Session.

Though the full attendance at the various public schools has not yet been ascertained it is easily seen from a general report that the attendance on the first day will surpass that of last year on a corresponding day by 500 or 600 pupils. The attendance on the first day last year was 15,736. Superintendent Goss says that the primary grades are crowded. Township Trustee Gold has not yet received a full report from the township principal, but from his visits to the different schools he estimates that the attendance exceeds that of last year by about 100 pupils. The seating capacity of the new schools is taxed to its utmost, but Mr. Gold says there will be no trouble in accommodating all the pupils that apply

RIGHT TO A PATENT

LITIGATION OVER THE DEVISE FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT HARNESS.

Indianapolis Has a Clear Claim to Use of It-Mayor's Scheme on South-Side Market.

Mayor Denny yesterday addressed a letter to Joseph R. Edson, a patent attorney of Washington, D. C., informing him that the city of Indianapolis would decline to contribute any money towards the defense of certain litigation, regarding the validity of a patent, now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States. The patent in question is the one in use by the fire department in this city for hanging the harness in such a way as to be readily dropped upon the horses. The suit to test the right to use it went to the Supreme Court from the Kansas City district. The patentee brought suit against Kansas City to enjoin the city from the further use of the device without the payment of a royalty to the inventor and to recover a large sum of money claimed as the royalty for the past usage of it. In the district court the city was successful and the case was decided against the patentee. He appealed to the Supreme Court. The patent attorney employed by the city is endeavoring to raise funds in the various cities in which the device is in use to assist in defraying the expenses of the litigation. The claim is made by Kansas City that the question involved is one of importance to all cities using the device, and most of the larger cities of the country and many of the small ones are using it. Kansas City thinks that the sustaining of the decision in the District Court will be a benefit to all of the cities and they should bear a part of the expenses. The claim is made that if the patent is upheld several cities will have to pay as high as $75,000 in royalties for the past usage of the device.

When Mayor Denny was first asked to contribute towards the expense he said he would investigate the right of Indianapolis to use the device and ascertain how it acquired the right. This was done through Fire Chief Webster, and it has been found that Indianapolis has a perpetual right to the use of the device, and is not liable to be mulcted for the payment of royalties. The city acquired the right to its use of the patent by purchase and has a grant of the right to its use. All of the contracts have been carefully preserved and are now in the hands of Chief Webster. Mayor Denny thinks that, under the circumstances, the city of Indianapolis is not to be in any wise affected by the litigation from Kansas City and has declined to con-

SHOULD BE FURTHER SOUTH.

Mayor Denny's Iden of the Proposed New Market.

Mayor Denny favors the establishment of a South-side market, but is of the opinion that it should be located farther south than the site named by the committee that called at the Mayor's office during his absence in Washington. This committee wanted a market established at Louisiana and Alabama streets. With Alabama street vacated under the viaduct this place would not be much used and could well be given to market purposes, but should the city contest the vacation of that street and succeed in having the vacation set aside the conditions would be changed. Mayor Denny thinks the market should be established east of Meridian street, and not farther north than McCarty street. He believes that if a suitable site could be secured for a reasonable rent it would be good policy to establish the South-side market, the city having grown to such an extent as to require a division of its markets.

Garfield Park Greenhouse.

Members of the Council are opposed to the building of an additional greenhouse at Garfield Park as ordered by the Board of Works, and the order may have some effect upon the estimates for the park. The South-side councilmen are opposed to the building of the house because they believe the money could be expended to a better advantage in general improvements about the park for the betterment of that park alone. They say that flowers are raised in Garfield Park for all the other parks and the expense is charged against the Garfield Park fund.

Accepted a Surety Company.

The Board of Public Works has accepted the American Surety Company as surety upon the bond of the Trinidad Asphalt Refining Company for the full performance of its contract with the city for asphalting South Meridian street. The other contractors objected to the acceptance of the company by the board unless some local person of responsibility also signed the bond as surety. The board, however, after investigation, was satisfied that the surety company was sufficient in-demnity and accepted the bond.

It Will Not Be Straightened. Another petition will probably be presented to the Board of Public Works asking for the straightening of Fall creek, but the board does not look with favor upon the project. When the question was before it some time ago it found that the expense would not justify the straightening. It is estimated that it would cost the city

Electric-Light Changes. The Indianapolis Light and Power Company has notified the Board of Public Works that it is ready to make the changes in the location of lamps as ordered by the board. The board has directed Inspector Tallentire to have the work done under his supervision.

Disposition of Night Soil. President Wildman and Mr. Meyer, of the Board of Works, say the dessicating company is fulfilling its contract for the disposition of night seil at Sellers farm as well as could be expected. They inspected the place last Saturday.

Proclamation for the Fair. On next Wednesday Mayor Denny will issue a proclamation asking all business houses and factories to close their establishments at noon in order to give em-ployes an opportunity to visit the fair on that day. Fifteen Cases Scarlet Fever.

There are at present about fifteen cases of scarlet fever in the city. The reports of contagious diseases received at the office of the Board of Health show that there is an increase of this disease in the Mountain Will Not Be Reinstated. The friends of Michael Mountain, who was recently dropped from the fire department, have been endeavoring to have him reinstated. The members of the board say that Mountain will not be reinstated.

Two Thieves Steal a Pump from the Residence of W. W. Pringle.

A peculiar robbery was reported to the police yesterday by W. W. Pringle, residing at No. 241 Sheldon street. He said that during the day two white men entered his yard and pulled the pump from the well. After satisfying themselves of its sound condition, they shouldered it and disappeared. Several neighbors vouch for the truthfulness of the report, and gave a good description of the thieves to the po-

THE DELTA TAU DELTAS.

A Wabash College Chapter Installed-Banquet at Commercial Club.

The installation ceremonies of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity were carried out in the assembly room of the Commercial Club last night in the institution of Beta Sigma Chapter, of Wabash College. The exercises began soon after 8 o'clock, and it was after 10 o'clock before the goat had made its last trip about the room with the last of the candidates. It must have been a happy occasion for the spectators, if not for the riders, judging from the sounds of laughter that came from the room. The gathering was a large one, and plates were set at the banquet, after the installation, for fifty persons. In addition to a large number of the local alumni there were present several of the alumni from out of the city. Professor Alvin E. Duerr. of Williams College, represented the Arch Chapter. The other members of the alumni from out of the city were W. Lowrie McClurg, of Chicago; Prof. Hugh. M. Kingery, of Wabash College, and George Mull, of Yale. Of the local alumni there was present ex-Mayor McMasters, James R. Wildman, Capt. J. B. Curtis, A. F. Potts, A. M. Boice, Dr. Oliver, Dr. Crose, Harry Murphy, W. W. Lowry, Dr. George E. Hunt, Dr. Lash, J. R. Morgan, L. J. Morgan, A. J. Taylor, Dr. F. F Hutchins, E. H. Clifford, Dr. J. D. Nichols, W. E. Shackelton, W. F. Clark, F. C. Howe, H. T. Mann, A. M. Hall, H. B. Fatout, Dr. H. C. Houcher, G. A. Verney, and others. C. Poucher, G. A. Varney and others. The banquet began at about 10:30 o'clock. Earnest R. Keith, as toastmaster, made a short address of welcome to the banquet-ers, after which the following toast list was followed: "The Spirit of Fraternity," J. L. Mc-Masters; "Old Times and Nowadays," Jas. B. Curtis; "To Be or Not to Be; that Is the Question," D. D. Haines; "Ups and Downs," Alfred F. Potts; "Loyalty and Fraternity," W. L. A DISPLAY OF CACTI.

Kingery; "Our Friends, the Enemy," Earl T. Ludlow.

New Feature of the Chrysanthemum Show Exhibit This Year.

The chrysanthemum show committee met at the Denison yesterday afternoon and completed the premium list for the coming exhibition. W. W. Coles, of Kokomo, president of the Society of Indiana Florists, presided at the meeting. The secretary reported liberal donations of premiums by merchants. There will be a number of special attractions at the show this year, among which will be a display of cacti. A special effort will also be made in the display of orchids, and the fruit display by the Horticultural Society will be much larger than at previous exhibits. The members of the society are sanguine that the show will be the largest yet held.

Reports have been received that growers from Cincinnati and Dayton, O., will have large exhibits at the show. There has been an extensive improvement recently in the variety of chrysanthemum carnation and rose, all of which will be shown. The premium committee thinks the display of American beauty roses alone will be worth the price of admission. For the evening concerts a cornet soloist will be engaged. The programme will be issued about Oct. 10. The following were present at yester-day's meeting: E. G. Hill, Richmond; John Hartje, Indianapolis; W. W. Coles, Kokomo; Anthony Wiegand, Henry Rieman, John Bertermann, William G. Bertermann, J. T.

Mrs. A. L. Roberts Occupies a Pulpit-Methodist Conference Change.

Mrs. A. L. Roberts, pastor of the Oak Hill United Brethren Church, is, it is claimed, the only regularly ordained woman preacher in this city. She preached her first sermon at that church last Sunday. She is the wife of A. L. Roberts, formerly pastor of the church, but now attending school at Dayton, O. Mrs. Roberts but recently married and has been a preacher for five years. She did not attend the schools of her church, but took the prescribed course of study at home. She is about twenty-nine years of age. The Northwest Indiana Conference has appointed a preacher for the North Indianapolis Methodist Church for the first time. This church is within the boundaries of that conference, but has heretofore been supplied by the Southeast Conference. This was due to the fact that the church was first established as a mission by churches within the latter conference, and after it became self-supporting the preachers were appointed by this conference for no particular reason, and the appointments have been permitted until this year.

ASSESSING THE POLICEMEN.

Democrat Committee Trying to Colleet-A Liquor Paper.

Ex-Superintendent of Police Colbert has sent a number of notes to Democratic patrolmen, asking them to call on him at the Hendricks club rooms on "important business." This important business is supposed to be the collection of campaign assessments. The civil-service commission of the city government may investigate these letters. Most of the Democratic policemen laugh at the request of the ex-superintend-

The liquor men are beginning to take an active part in the Democratic canvass. The brewers have men out making a canvass of the saloon keepers to raise funds for a new paper to be run during the campaign in the interest of the saloon keepers and the Democratic party jointly. It is said the paper will be brought out shortly.

Mr. Henry on the South Side. Charles L. Henry will address a mass meeting at Odd Fellows' Hall on Virginia avenue on Friday night. The arrangements for the meeting are in the hands of Southside Republican clubs, which are making preparations for a large attendance. This will probably be the only address made by Mr. Henry upon the South Side during his race, as he has already engagements in various parts of the district to occupy nearly his entire time. Several of the South-side clubs are making arrangements to attend the meeting in a body.

A Poll Taker's Argument.

A number of the Democratic poll takers have been attempting missionary work during the taking of their poll. A few days ago one of the men caused some amusement by laboring with an old Democrat who intended to vote the Republican ticket this fall. "You ought not to vote the Republican ticket this fall," said the poll clerk. "Why, don't you know all the people are flocking over to our party this year. The way Congress has been doing has disgusted thousands of Republicans."

Rice & Barton's Hit.

Rice & Barton's "McDoodle and Poodle" drew another crowded house at the Empire Theater last night. With new costumes, witty lines and first-class specialties the play, if play it may be called, is as bright and lively an entertainment as Empire patrons have seen for many a day. A notable number of ladies and children have been in attendance at the matinees this week, and it was easy to see that they were well satisfied with the character of the performance. Little's version of "The World" will be at the theater all next week, beginning Monday with a matinee,

IT CAN BE APPRAISED

A POINT OF LAW FOR THE RICK-ETTS DEAL SCHEMERS.

Application to the Court for Appraisers Permitted by the Statutes-Method of Procedure.

At the next meeting of the School Board a new question in the Ricketts property deal will be raised by Commissioner Blackledge. The question will be what in common parlance is called a "poser" and will have the effect of compelling the majority of the members to show their hands and face the question as to whether or not there be jobbery in the proposed deal. When the price proposed to be paid for this property was first mentioned it nearly took the breath of a few of the members of the board and the taxpayers of the city. The majority of the board, knowing its strength, has shown a disposition to force the deal through at the price given, $60,000. Since the question has been before the board Mr. Blackledge has been unceasing in his efforts to force the board to at least make an effort to get the needed property at a reasonable price. He has now added a paragraph to the report of the minority of the committee which had the question before it. Sections 4517 to 4519 of the Revised Statutes of 1881 fix the powers of school trustees under the general law in regard to the acquirement of property. In these sections it is provided that whenever the school trustees need any specific property for school purposes they may apply to the judge of the Circuit Court for the appointment of appraisers. The owner of the property shall be given ten days' notice of the appointment and the appraisers shall take oath to make a true valuation. They shall afterward report to the Circuit Court their finding upon the question of value. If the owner of the property deems the appraisement insufficient it shall then' be tried in the court, and if the finding of the appraisers is sustained the school trustees may pay the amount to the clerk of the court and title to the property will be given to the trustees. This is the provision of the general school laws upon the condemnation of property. Section 4463 of the Revised Statutes of 1881 makes these sections of the general law applicable to cities of 30,000 or over, which have special features not provided for in the general law. Mr. Blackledge will recommend the condemnation of the Ricketts property in accordance with these provisions of the law if the board is determined to have it. He says under this law he sees no reason why the board should accept any proposition that the owners of the property may see fit to make. He does not see why the board should permit the owners of the property to require the payment of an exorbitant price simply because the owners know that the property would be valuable to the

BIG CROWD AT POMPEIL.

The Spectacle Has Become Universally Popular in the City.

Though many thought it was too cold last night to go to Pompeii park, yet 6,000 or more people donned heavier garments, went there and enjoyed the great exhibition of fireworks. The gentlemen handling the production were themselves not overconfident that a large audience would be present, but when 8 o'clock came the seats were all filled and more were arriving. Within half an hour later it was necessary for the ushers to put seats in the aisles and rear passages, and then the audience could not be seated. A great many were compelled to stand throughout the performance. The absence of children was noticed, but those that were there kept those around them in a good humor by reciting their experiences at school during the last two days, the first of the term.

The great case and grace with which the tumblers and contortionists went through their parts, and the wonderful exhibition of daring by Prof. Jean Weitzman, the wire rope-walker, caused the people to thaw out, and after that points of merit were generously applauded. The scenic effects of the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, followed by the shattering of the city of stone, were very realistic, and were appreciated by the audience. The fireworks dealt mainly with the emblems and insignia of the Knights of Pythias, though there were many designs that were of a general nature. Among the latter were the beautiful skyrockets which, on exploding in the air a hundred feet above the heads of the people, burst into countless numbers of stars, and a few that disclosed balloons that changed hues as they floated away and were finally lost to view. The pin-wheels of gigantic proportions were new to most of those present, and it was the general opinion that the fireworks, outside of the special designs for the Knights of Pythias, equalled those on Independence day at the World's Columbian Exposition. One of the most imposing groups of designs was a collection of flowers, representing the sunflower, rose, lily and others, in which the different hues of the flower were excellently represented by fire. The closing and larg est design was that of the emblem of the Knights of Pythias. The design twenty feet high and ten feet wide. The different parts were easily discernible, and the members of the order who were largely represented in the audience wented their appreciation by generously applauding. The usual good street-car service was furnished, and within ten minutes after the performance closed the people were gone, the lights turned out, and all things suggestive of the fourth production of the "Fall of Pompeii" had vanished.

The Features This Week. There will be but two more performances of "Pompeii" this week. To-morrow night will be G. A. R. night, and the special designs in fireworks will include a reproduction of the Grand Army badge and other devices. There will also be several new pyrotechnic figures introduced in addition to the regular programme. The most elaborate of these and the greatest design in fireworks ever seen here will be given tomorrow night, the workmen having been engaged in preparing for it for two weeks. That is "Niagara on Fire," a mammoth set piece, 200 feet long, representing Niagara Falls by a great mass of different colored flames. This was first given at the world's fair last year, and is the greatest and most brilliant display of fireworks ever made in one piece in this country. It has been arranged for as a special attraction for to-morrow night, when it is expected local people will fill the great amphitheater at Lincoln Park to overflowing. The ter at Lincoln Park to overflowing. The State fair comes next week, when out-of-town visitors will probably monopolize the greater part of the seats at "Pompeii." President Holton and the general com-mittee who have the spectacle in charge are working hard to bring people to the city to see it. Yesterday they arranged for an excursion of 200 from Shelbyville, who will be here to-morrow night, and excursions from other towns will be here tomorrow and Saturday nights. The big celebration, so far as the city is of the week will concerned, Indianapolis night, next night, when there Saturday will be new specialtles and new features introduced in the performance. Mayor Denny's picture will be given in fireworks, among other things, and it is expected that the attendance will be the greatest that has yet been at "Pompeli."

Check on a Suspended Bank. Recently the Town Board of Irvington awarded a cement walk contract to William Ficklen & Co., of Chicago. The board accepted a check of the company for $500 as bond for the work. The check was deposited in bank, but it was found, so the board claims, that the bank on which it was drawn at South Waukegan, Ill., went into liquidation over a year ago. The attorney for the bank which went into liquidation says the record of the bank shows no record of the check. The check was drawn on July 5, 1894. The contract will be let to another party.

Exhibits for the Fair.

The recording of entries in the various departments at the State fair is keeping very busy a corps of five recording secretaries, besides two assistants in charge of matters hibits are already arriving, and the fair ground is anything but a quiet place. Word reached the secretary yesterday that seven of the herd of cattle, now being exhibited at Lincoln, Neb., would start for Indianapodue from points in the State will greatly tax the spacious show barns on the grounds. The space for mechanical exhibits has been enlarged, and while the acres of ground heretofore occupied by this ex-hibit have been assigned, the superintendent of the mechanical department has been permitted to place exhibits at points on the grounds that have before been reserved for other purposes. The gates to the grounds will this year be closed on Sunday to all except exhib-ltors, and the public will not be admitted until the fair is formally opened.

PATROLMAN POPE'S CLOSE CALL. Saloon Keeper Sorrell's Deliberate Attempt to Murder the Policeman.

By the fortunate misfire of a revolver last evening George Sorrell, a saloon keeper at Washington and New Jersey streets, escaped being the murderer of patrolman James Pope. As Pope was on his way to roll call he went into Sorrell's saloon to investigate a boisterous quarrel. Sorrell was in the saloon, and as he had been drinking he was in an ugly mood towards Pope. The moment he saw Pope he ordered him from the saloon, using profane language, and followed it up with a threatening demonstration of fists. When Pope told him to cool down he drew his revolver from a hip pocket and before an opportunity was given the officer to defend himself, Sorrell pointed the weapon directly at his head and pulled the trigger. There were a number of rowdies in the saloon, and though they relished a prospect of trouble, yet they grew alarmed as they heard the trigger click. But the snapping of the trigger was the climax of the trouble. The cartridge failed to be discharged. To prevent further trouble, a man named Jones, who was a witness to the affair, intervened and wrenched the re-volver from Sorrell. Pope then arested the latter on a charge of intent to kill. Soon after Sorrell was arrested his bartender called at the police station and told Superintendent Powell that Pope had acted in his line of duty, and said the blame rested entirely with Sorrell. Pope has been on the police force for fifteen years, and though he has been in several tight places, yet that of yesterday evening was the nar-rowest escape of all.

North-End Shooting Club Holds Its Annual Tournament.

SHOOTING AT BLUE ROCKS.

The North End Shooting Club had a large field of contestants yesterday at the opening of its second annual tournament, held on the club's new grounds, two squares east of the end of College avenue. Prominent shots from all over this State and a few from outside were present, among the latter being B. A. Bartlett, of Buffalo, N. Y., who defeated Dr. Carver for the rifle championship of the world. Mr. Bartlett gave exhibitions of his skill in the use of the Burgess gun, which has a reputation of shooting three times in a second. The programme called for nine events, there being merchandise prizes in all events. Single blue rocks were the targets and were shot at known and unknown angles.

A. B. Bartlett and A. Grube tied for the first event, each killing ten single birds.

The second event also resulted in a tie, D. Partindon and C. F. L. Lockwood both making the fifteen birds. The rest of the events resulted in ties and as Secretary
